

RESTORING CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNANCE ACT OF CALIFORNIA

- (1) Notwithstanding any treaty, federal, state, or local law or authority, enacted or claimed, including, but not limited to, an authorization for use of military force, national defense authorization act, or any similar law or authority enacted or claimed by Congress or the Office of the President, it is unlawful for any person to:
  - a. arrest or capture any person in California, or citizen of California, “under the law of war,” or
  - b. actually subject a person in California to “disposition under the law of war,” or
  - c. use deadly force “under the laws of war” against any person in California, or intentionally subject any citizen of California for targeted killing or murder.
- (2) Section (1) does not prohibit the application of the UCMJ, including military detention and trial, in “cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the Militia, when in actual service in time of War or public danger” to discipline service members who have violated the UCMJ and laws of war.
- (3) For the purposes of this Act, the terms “arrest,” “capture,” “detention under the law of war,” “disposition under the law of war,” and “law of war” are used in the same sense and shall have the same meaning as such terms have in the 2012 NDAA, Section 1021.
- (4) It is the determination of the State of California that California is not a “battlefield” subject to the “laws of war,” and that neither Congress nor the President can constitutionally apply the “laws of war” to any person in California, or citizen of California, who is not serving “in the land or naval forces, or in the Militia, when in actual service in time of War or public danger.”
- (5) Any person in violation of this act shall be prosecuted under the California Criminal Code relating to, but not limited to, assault, battery, kidnapping, and/or murder, as applicable.
